

The Amityville Historical Society exemplifies community pride, by maintaining the beautiful Lauder Museum. The Lauder Museum is one of the area's most important assets. It provides resources for research and conserves Amityville's history and exhibits many treasures.

*We hope that you will visit soon and often.
Admission to the Lauder Museum is always free!*

Won't you join us? It's easy! The membership fee is modest. Be included as a supporter of what we all cherish; community and its history. Do it today, so there will be a Lauder Museum tomorrow. For those who are already members we echo many thanks for your past and present support and look forward with visions of your continued generosity for the future! Thank you.
